ABOUT THE WORKSHOP
A majority of structural failures and associated damage costs are due to errors in planning, design, construction, and utilization, rather than stochastic variability in construction material strengths and structural loads. Recently developed design methods treat uncertainties due to inherent randomness, but still do not take errors in design and construction into account. This workshop will cover the areas such as faulty design, mistakes during construction, poor workmanship, building usage not in accordance with design and lack of or incorrect maintenance.

OBJECTIVE
- To make the participants aware of inadequacies in the design.
- To understand the mistakes done at the construction site
- To identify the causes of defects and its assessment.
- To gain knowledge in remedial methods to set right the defects
- To make use of repair materials available in the market.

DISCUSSION TOPICS
- Basis for design faults and construction errors
- Assessment of building defects
- Rectification methods and solutions.
- NDT Techniques to assess strength

RESOURCE PERSONS
Technical lectures will be provided by Eminent Resource Persons from Academic Institutions and Industries.

TARGET AUDIENCE
This one day national level workshop is deliberately designed for the professionals working as:
- Consultants
- Academic Faculty Members
- Research Professionals
- UG and PG Students
